The central job functions that show a clear need for adequate visual functioning, to perform the duties of an Idaho Juvenile Corrections Officer are as follows:

Apply use of force continuum-There is a need to see the bodies and facial expressions of juveniles as far away as 30 yards. It is important to see colors of clothing in bright light to identify color-coded clothing. Need to see at 10 yards small weapons and non-verbal body language among juveniles. Need to see threats from the right and left simultaneously in subdued lighting.

Conduct ongoing threat assessment-Need to see to identify faces of and see movement of people at 25 yards. See facial detail and body language at 30 feet. See to the right and left simultaneously to detect dangers.

Intervene in physical confrontations between juveniles/juveniles-staff-Need to see details of faces at 30 feet and to recognize general events at 75 feet. Color vision is important to be able to identify faces and clothing.

Monitor/use surveillance equipment-See to identify faces at 30 feet and threats from right and left simultaneously.

Operate emergency equipment-Need to see 30 yards to locate emergency equipment and see coding-colors of emergency equipment.

Perform facility perimeter checks inside and outside-Need to see to identify faces of and see movement of people at 25 yards. See small dangerous objects and colors in bright light.

Perform key and tool control-See clearly enough to identify keys and tools in bright light and in subdued lighting at arms length.

Perform physical restraint of juveniles-See details well enough to identify color, faces and dangerous objects at a safe distance of 10 feet.

Use observation skills-Need to see to identify faces of and see movement of people at 25 yards. See small dangerous objects, colors in bright light and right and left simultaneously to detect dangers.

Put mechanical restraints on/off-See objects and people clearly at a distance of 20 feet to maintain officer safety. See well enough to insert the ~ inch end of a one-inch key (handle) into a ¼ inch keyhole and the other end of the key in the 3/16th opening of the double-lock.

Search room for contraband, maintenance and defacement-See detail at distance of 30 yards to locate and identify altered and other unauthorized items of very small and large contraband. Ability to see in subdued lighting.

Verbally deescalate juveniles-Need to see people at 30 yards, see faces at 30 feet and see small weapons at 5 yards to identify problems or threats.
